E12: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

The World Trade Organization came into being in 1995. One of the youngest of the international organizations, the WTO is the successor to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) established in the wake of the Second World War. So while the WTO is relatively young, the multilateral trading system that was originally set up under the GATT is over 70 years old.

The past 70 years have seen an exceptional growth in world trade. Merchandise exports have grown on average by 6% annually. This growth in trade has been a powerful engine for overall economic expansion and on average trade has grown by 1.5 times more than the global economy each year. Total exports in 2016 were 250 times the level of 1948. The GATT and the WTO have helped to create a strong and prosperous trading system contributing to unprecedented growth.

The system was developed through a series of trade negotiations, or rounds, held under the GATT. The first rounds dealt mainly with tariff reductions but later negotiations included other areas such as anti-dumping and non-tariff measures. The 1986-94 round – the Uruguay Round – led to the WTO's creation.

E13: Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to the questions.

A. UNICEF provides a relief network for children and their parents or other caregivers in the aftermath of disasters, such as floods, earthquakes, and droughts. It has worked extensively with children from war-torn countries to help alleviate their suffering. The organization works to prevent child abuse, child labor, sexual exploitation of children, and the use of children as soldiers. In the United States, UNICEF has focused its work on inner-city children victimized by random violence and gang warfare.

B. UNICEF has provided immunization to millions of children against potentially fatal diseases, such as diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, measles, polio, and tuberculosis. UNICEF's promotion of basic health-care delivery systems and treatments, such as rehydration therapy for children suffering from diarrhea, has also contributed to dramatic reductions in child mortality. In response to the global epidemic of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS), UNICEF works to prevent the transmission of AIDS and human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) in young people and to obtain medicine for infected individuals. It also helps communities, especially those in sub-Saharan Africa, care for the millions of children orphaned by the death of their parents from AIDS.

C. UNICEF receives financial support from more than 150 national governments. Like many international aid organizations, however, UNICEF faces shrinking government subsidies for the work it performs. UNICEF's challenge in the years ahead is to attract a greater percentage of its funding from foundations, corporations, and individuals to ensure its programs can continue.

Question 1: Which of the following statements is NOT TRUE?

- A. UNICEF provides programs improving early health-care system for children.
- B. UNICEF works to protect children from harmful effects.
- C. UNICEF is funded by more than 150 national governments
- D. UNICEF creates better working conditions for children

Question 2: UNICEF was established in order to _____

- A. solve conflicts between children and their parents
- B. prevent problems that affect children badly
- C. prevent natural disasters such as droughts, floods, earthquakes
- D. support homeless children in big cities

Question 3: Millions of children can escape from fatal diseases such as diphtheria, tetanus, measles, tuberculosis because of _____

- A. the immunization program of UNICEF
- B. the prevention from the transmission of AIDS
- C. the improvement of modern medical system in the world
- D. the new treatments in hospital for children

Question 4: In communities in sub-Saharan Africa, UNICEF also helps _____

- A. children victimized by random violence
- B. children orphaned by the death of their parents from AIDS
- C. children infected fatal diseases
- D. children suffered the aftermath of natural disasters

Question 5: In the near future, the challenge of UNICEF is _____

- A. to reduce child mortality
- B. to prevent the transmission of AIDS
- C. to attract a greater fund from foundations
- D. to continue its programs

Read the passage and circle the correct answers to the following questions

For Catherine Lumby, deciding to take on the role of breadwinner in her relationship was not a difficult choice. When she discovered she was pregnant with her first child, she had just been offered a demanding new role as Director of the Media and Communications department at the University of Sydney. But she didn't see this as an obstacle, and was prepared to use childcare when the children were old enough. It came, therefore, as a surprise to Lumby and her husband Derek that, after the birth of their son, they couldn't actually bear the thought of putting him into childcare for nine hours a day. As she was the one with the secure job, the role of primary care-giver fell to Derek, who was writing scripts for television. This arrangement continued for the next four years, with Derek working from home and caring for both of their sons.

Whilst Lumby and her husband are by no means the only Australians making such a role reversal, research suggests that they are in the minority.

The situation is likely to change. This is due to several reasons, including the number of highly educated women in the workforce and changing social patterns and expectations. However, she warns that for couples involved in role-switching, there are many potential difficulties to be overcome.

Question 1. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. Men being the bread winners
- B. Traditional roles of women
- C. Women being the home makers
- D. Reversed roles between men and women

Question 2. Catherine and her husband decided that Catherine would be the primary earner because _____.

- A. she had a badly paid job
- B. she was not good at childcare
- C. she had a reliable job
- D. she wanted her husband to stay at home

Question 3. In paragraph 1, the word "him" refers to ____.

- A. their son
- B. her husband
- C. Derek
- D. her colleague

Question 4. In paragraph 2, the word "reversal" is closest in meaning to ____.

- A. stability
- B. modification
- C. rehearsal
- D. switch

Question 5. One reason for a change in the number of men staying home is ____.

- A. the stability in the number of highly-educated women who are working
- B. the fall in the number of highly-educated women who are working
- C. the rise in the number of highly-educated women who are working
- D. the fluctuation in the number of highly-educated women who are working

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

As she was the one with the secure job, the role of primary caregiver fell to Derek, who was writing scripts for television. This arrangement continued for the next four years, with Derek working from home and caring for both of their sons. He returned to full-time work earlier this year.

Whilst Lumby and her husband are by no means the only Australians making such a role reversal, research suggests that they are in the minority. In a government-funded survey in 2001, only 5.5 percent of couples in the 30–54-year age group saw the women working either part- or full-time while the men were unemployed.

The situation is likely to change, according to the CEO of Relationships Australia, Anne Hollonds. She suggests that this is due to several reasons, including the number of highly educated women in the workforce and changing social patterns and expectations. However, she warns that for couples involved in role-switching, there are many potential difficulties to be overcome. For men whose self-esteem is connected to their jobs and the income it provides to the family, a major change of thinking is required. It also requires women to reassess, particularly with regard to domestic or child-rearing decisions, and they may have to learn to deal with the guilt of not always being there at key times for their children. Being aware of these issues can make operating in non-traditional roles a lot easier.
